offset printing

Our offset department has a strong machine park where the most advanced technologies are used in all processes of printing.

Our offset department adopt speed, quality, trust, details and technology as principle and provides high level service with its expert staff.

screen printing

In order to maximize the printing sensitiveness on our full-automatic, semi-automatic and manual screen printing machines, all the necessary chemicals, raw materials and equipments are kept in maximum quality, and applied on the product in a professional way.

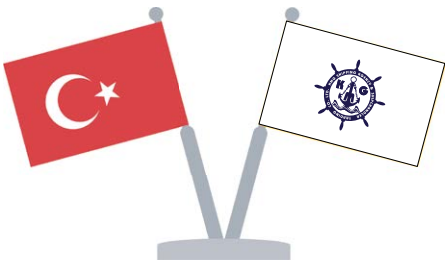

Pad Printing

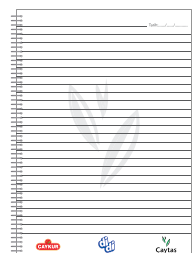

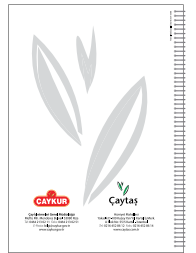

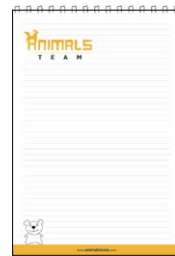

We can keep both color and printing sensitiveness high on single and double color printing machines, and we obtain practical, rapid and economical printing from alternative printing systems. In addition, pad printing systems allow printing on different materials and uneven surfaces,

The background is a collage of abstract, painterly textures in various shades of brown, tan, orange, and black. The textures are layered and somewhat irregular, giving it a hand-painted or layered paper appearance. The word 'promotion' is overlaid on the top half of the collage.
